The Airdrie Food Bank (AFB) is a community-owned organization that provides emergency food support for those facing food insecurity in Airdrie. Last year, the AFB fed 69,116 community members, with 44% being children. It also helps the environment by diverting food waste from landfills.

AFB Board of Directors seeks 2 board members. Ideally, you have community service experience, collaboration skills, strategic outlook, and expertise in areas like business analysis, fund development and governance.

Board positions are 2-year terms, renewable twice for max of 6 years. Expectations: attend monthly meetings (online or in-person), join a committee, and participate in AFB events such as fundraisers and strategic planning.

The Board values the principles of diversity, inclusion, equity and accommodation in its hiring practices.
